

Help us get Digital Sisters re-funded!

Dear Digital Sisters Network Partner,

As one of our Digital Sisters partners, you know the amazing impact this program has had on your community better than anyone.

Together through the Digital Sisters program, we have seen and heard so many stories of women feeling more empowered, connected, confident and safer after participating in your digital skills sessions.

But, our funding for this important program is due to end on 30 June 2025.

We want the Digital Sisters program to continue, so we can support even more women to build confidence and digital skills. We've heard that you want that too, and we need your help.

What we are asking for

Good Things is advocating for the Digital Sisters program to be funded for a further three years, and extended to reach more people in need across the country.

How you can get involved

Your organisation can help amplify this message with Government and decision makers, highlighting the importance of this program.

Your organisation can help by:

1. Contacting your Federal MP about this program

2. Sharing stories about the impact the Digital Sisters program has had in your community
3. Explaining that more funding is needed to ensure this program can continue.

Attached is a toolkit to support you to do this, including a:

- Tipsheet on how to contact your Federal MP
- Letter template to help you write to your Federal MP -
- Tipsheet on collecting stories and case studies
- Tips and tricks to promote Digital Sisters on your social media channels and other communications platforms.

If you need any extra help or have questions, contact Maria Peter in the Good Things team at maria.peter@goodthingsfoundation.org. Thank you for your help advocating for the re-funding and extension of the Digital Sisters program.

Kind regards,

Jess Wilson (Good Things CEO), Maria Peter and the whole Good Things Team.
