

How to make strong passwords

Strong passwords keep you safer online.

Make it creative

A password should have 15 characters or more. Come up with your own fun way to make your passwords strong and easy to remember, but tricky to guess.

For example, combine words like your favourite food + holiday location + animal + special number = pizzabalihorse67

Make it harder to guess

Try to include a mix of numbers, uppercase letters and symbols like $, *, ! to make it harder to guess. For example, Pizza@Bali$Horse_67

Tip: Mix up the order of uppercase letters and special symbols to make it even harder to guess.

Make it unique

Use a different password for all your online accounts. This means that if someone knows one of your passwords, they won't be able to log in to your other accounts.

Password managers

Password manager apps are like having a helper with a great memory. They can remember the log in information for your accounts for you.

Before you start using a password manager, think about what you need. Compare different apps features, check reviews and consider costs before choosing if it's right for you.

Tip: Your phone may already have a password manager! Android phones have Google Password Manager and Apple phones have Passwords.
